

COVENANT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

WOMEN'S

M I N I S T R Y

As fall lies before us there seems to be more unanswered questions and uncertainty. Yet, God has not changed or moved and it is still certain that the people of God must be in the Word of God. We are called to make time for the study, teaching, and meditation of God's Word a high priority! We need the Word of God to dwell in our hearts, minds, and lives to be the people of God. There are so many opportunities for division in our families, friendships, communities, and even our churches right now. I truly want to challenge you to come together with a small group to study God's Word. And we have a great opportunity for you to do that with our Ephesians study beginning September 8!

What are we studying, and how is this going to work?

We are studying the book of Ephesians and using a study guide called "Hinged, Vitally Connected to Christ and His Church." We will have lectures at church on Tuesday mornings at 10:30 in the Sanctuary. These will be live-streamed and recorded. As allowed, we will have small groups on site after the lecture. However, we will have small groups in homes and via Zoom based on your preference and schedule. When you register for the Ephesians study there is a place for you to request what day of the week and what time of day you are available to participate in a small group. Our goal with these small groups is to put ladies in different Sunday School classes together. It is a wonderful opportunity to grow with sisters in Christ across our congregation. However, the Women's Ministry Team knows that this is also a good opportunity for Sunday School classes to study together. When you register, please indicate if you would like to be in a small group made up of ladies from different Sunday School classes or in a small group with your Sunday School class.

Is there homework?

Yes. The homework is divided across five days and will generally take 30 minutes each day.

What if all I can do is read the passage and listen to the lecture? Should I still participate in a small group?

Absolutely.
